Here at WebpageFX, we're always excited to explore new ways to engage with students and offer them a real-life view inside the day-to-day lives of professionals in their desired field. This semester, we've planned something extra special!

We are thrilled to announce the first ever WebpageFX-U: Interactive event which will take place Monday, February 26th from 2:30-4:30 here on our very own WebpageFX Campus. This event is specifically designed with Computer Science, MIS, IST, Communication Design, Graphic/Web Design, etc. majors in mind, and will give students a comprehensive view of our "top floor" operations including web development, design, software engineering and project management.

WebpageFX-U: Interactive will feature:

- Tours of the FX Campus
- Networking Between Students and FX-ers
- Breakout Sessions for Each Specific Focus
- A Hands-On Website Functionality Creation & Team Competition
- Panel Q&A Discussion
- Opportunities for Students to Show Their Work
- And more!

Students can register by visiting and filling out our Evite here: Check Out the Evite!

Note for student attendees: A second email will be sent out requesting samples of some of your own work to be showcased via slideshow during FX-U, and asking your advice on a few topics. Keep an eye out!

The deadline for registration is Wednesday, February 21st - and space is limited!

Please feel free to share this information with any students, faculty members, or colleagues that you think may be interested in attending! Don't hesitate to forward any questions my way!

Thanks so much!
